Finding the Balance Between Nature and Culture

Thursday, March 29 at 7:00 pm

100 Nutting Hall, UMaine Campus

Mark Ireland filming the fog lifting over Rangeley Lake at sunrise. His documentary, filmed over four seasons, profiles four land trusts in different regions of Maine, demonstrating the variety of efforts to make conserved lands available to all community members.

A new documentary presented by Bangor, Brewer and Orono Land Trusts

Following the film screening, the film maker and leaders from Bangor, Brewer and Orono Land Trusts will be on hand for a question and answer session. Admission is free. Donations are welcome.
